POSITIVE MENTAL HEALTH FOR ALL

The effects of the rapid changes in all walks of life brought about by the vast technological advances made by humankind over the last few decades has impacted lifestyle at the individual as well as collective levels. Be it family, society, profession or values these changes makes it all the more necessary to restructure our belief system and look afresh at placing mental and emotional well being alongside physical health and not merely as a far removed corollary of "good physical health".

MIND India has therefore adopted a plan of action primarily focused on addressing individual issues through Counselling and other well-being related interventions to usher in positive social change. The organization has provided technical support based on evidence based research inputs so as to build capacity of manpower at different levels for healing and personal growth which will in turn enhance personal effectiveness.
